

What is the Disabilities Law Program?

The Disabilities Law Program is a special project of Community Legal Aid Society, Inc. and is designated by the Governor as the Protection and Advocacy agency in Delaware.

This program provides advocacy services to Delaware residents with physical or mental disabilities. Given limited resources, services are prioritized based on needs identified by consumer and community groups.

Multiple Projects

The Disabilities Law Program includes seven advocacy projects:

PAIMI - Protection and Advocacy for Individuals with Mental Illness

PATBI - Protection and Advocacy for Traumatic Brain Injury

PADD - Protection and Advocacy for Individuals with Developmental Disabilities

PAIR - Protection and Advocacy of Individual Rights

PAVA - Protection and Advocacy for Voter Access

PABSS - Protection and Advocacy for Beneficiaries of Social Security

PAAT - Protection and Advocacy for Assistive Technology

VOCA - Advocacy for Victims of Crime with disabilities. This project funded through the DE CJC by the U.S. DOJ.

Program Eligibility and Focus

PAIMI - Protection and Advocacy for Individuals with Mental Illness

PAIMI serves persons with mental illness who either:

- Reside in a public or private facility (such as a hospital, nursing home, institution, or community care home) or
- Reside in the community but are at risk of abuse, neglect or civil rights violation

PAIMI typically provides services in securing rights to:

- An individualized treatment plan
- Appropriate treatment
- A comprehensive discharge plan
- Freedom from abuse and neglect
- Other rights related to the disability

PATBI - Protection and Advocacy for Traumatic Brain Injury

PATBI serves individuals with traumatic brain injury, an injury to the head caused by blunt, penetrating, or other force which generally results in mental or physical dysfunction.

PATBI typically assists in securing rights to:

- Special education and vocational training
- “Safety net” public benefits such as SSI and Medicaid
- Freedom from employment and housing discrimination
- Freedom from inappropriate institutionalization
- Other rights related to the disability

PADD - Protection and Advocacy for Individuals with Developmental Disabilities

PADD serves individuals with a severe mental or physical impairment that developed before age 22 which causes multiple major functional limitations that are expected to last indefinitely.

The program also serves young children from birth to age 5 with developmental disabilities, or with conditions that may lead to developmental disabilities without services.

PADD typically assists in securing rights to:

- Appropriate treatment
- A free and appropriate public education
- Freedom from discrimination in housing and family services
- Accessibility
- Financial entitlements including Medicaid services and children’s SSI
- Freedom from abuse and neglect
- Other rights related to the disability

PAIR - Protection and Advocacy of Individual Rights

PAIR serves individuals with a severe physical or mental disability that is not considered developmental, or that occurred after the age of 22.

PAIR provides advocacy services to protect rights in the areas of:

- Freedom from discrimination in housing
- Accessibility to public accommodations
- Availability and access to transportation
- Public agency policy accommodations
- Other rights related to the disability

PAVA - Protection and Advocacy for Voter Access

PAVA serves individuals with disabilities with education, training and assistance to promote full participation in the electoral process, including registration, casting a vote, and accessing polling places.

PAVA may provide advocacy to overcome policy and physical barriers impeding voter registration and access to polling sites and usable voting equipment.

PABSS - Protection and Advocacy for Beneficiaries of Social Security

PABSS serves current Social Security or SSI beneficiaries who wish to work, particularly participants in the Ticket to Work and Self-Sufficiency Program.

Services include:

- Provision of information and training on work incentives and employment
- Advocacy to overcome barriers to employment
- Investigation of complaints against employers or providers involved in return to work effort
- Correction of defects in vocational rehabilitation, employment and support agencies.

PAAT - Protection and Advocacy for Assistive Technology

PAAT serves individuals with disabilities who would be helped by assistive technology (e.g. wheelchairs, communication devices).

PAAT provides advocacy services in the educational, Medicaid, and government services contexts.

VOCA - Advocacy for Victims of Crime

The VOCA project provides civil legal assistance to crime victims with disabilities. Advocacy focuses on relief for persons who may be victims of physical, sexual or emotional abuse, neglect and financial or material exploitation. Typical advocacy may include outreach, technical assistance, and legal representation.
